THE H. C. MURRAY CO.

When It Rains Frogs.

A rain of frogs, such as has occurred at Gibraltar, causes no wild theories of serial generation now. Everybody knows that they come from neighboring lakes. In Italy, where these showers are fairly common, the serial explanation was long popular. It was finally exploded by the philosopher Redi who dissected some of the frogs and found heres and other half-digested food in their stomachs. He triumphantly asked whether, even if Nature produced frogs in the clouds, it was reasonable to imagine that she also went to the trouble of growing colonial grubs for them to feed upon. But there are still parrots of Europe in which a rain of "blood" (water tinged by minute red creatures) would excite panic in this time of wholesale bloodshed—London Chronicle.

WILLIMANTIC

Boy Scout Work and Ball Game Features of Friday's Programme of Old School and Home Week Celebration.

The big crowds and excitement of Thursday were decidedly lacking on Friday, although most of the out of town people were still here. The celebrations took the form of group reunions, with the exception of the senior reception of the Windham High school, and the events at Recreation park.

The work of the Boy Scouts at two o'clock was a most interesting sight, and several hundred people were on hand for the various events. The boys made a fine appearance and showed the results of excellent training in their work. The tent raising showed some very creditable work, and was a pretty sight, as was the wig-wag signalling. Then there were exhibitions of first aid methods, cooking, rescue, stretcher and equipment races, landing and striking camp.

The members taking part and the list of events follow:

1. Scoutmaster R. H. Fenton; assistant scoutmasters, Rev. W. S. Beard, Harrison Topfitt, Kenneth Hillhouse, R. A. Branch, Elmer Ellsworth, Alton Story.
